

Legalized Marijuana

Is your workplace prepared?

On October 17, 2018, recreational use of marijuana will become legal in Canada. Is your workplace prepared?

In this 2-hour interactive workshop, an experienced human rights lawyer will help you understand how marijuana legalization may affect your workplace.

Topics covered include:

- ◆ Updating your drug and alcohol policies
- ◆ Drug testing in the workplace
- ◆ Managing risk in safety-sensitive workplaces
- ◆ The duty to accommodate medical marijuana users
- ◆ Human Rights complaints – process and procedures

ABOUT THE FACILITATOR:

Laura Track is a lawyer and educator in CLAS's Human Rights Clinic. She advocates on behalf of people who have experienced discrimination and assists complainants to navigate BC's human rights process. Laura also has a keen interest in making legal knowledge accessible. She delivers workshops and presentations to a wide variety of audiences to help people understand their human rights and comply with their legal obligations.

We host this workshop at our office in Vancouver several times a year.

Workshop fee: $100
per person

Check our website for upcoming dates.

www.bchrc.net/education

This course is accredited for 2 hours of Continuing Professional Development credit by the Law Society of BC

We can come to you!
If you would like to host this workshop at your own organization, please contact us.

Workshop fee: $375
plus travel expenses

If you are a non-profit organization and these fees pose a barrier, please contact us to discuss alternative arrangements.

For more info and to book

Contact Svetlana:

T: 604-673-3122

E: skhakhleva@clasbc.net

www.bchrc.net